The Stourbridge gym is alive once again as Co-working Space—a creative, collaborative environment for business activity. Completely refurbished, the institutional look is gone and architectural features and textures create an edgy home for workstations and state-of-the-art technology. A new security system, high speed internet and data storage are available, along with media equipment, 3-D printers and specialty software packages, work tables and chairs. The Stourbridge Project is transforming space to transform lives!
